Nurturing Future Leaders: A Year of Growth at SEKPS

As we approach the end of another vibrant school term at SEKPS, it's a wonderful opportunity to reflect on our shared journey. This year, our focus has been on nurturing our students into invigorating and revitalizing individuals while equipping them with the essential skills needed for the 21st century. As Albert Einstein once said, "Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think," and we strive to empower our students to become critical thinkers and innovators.

Embracing Diversity

At SEKPS, we take pride in our diverse and multicultural community. Every student brings unique experiences and perspectives, enriching our school environment. This diversity fosters a culture of respect and understanding, preparing our students to thrive in an interconnected world.

The school is dedicated to providing a diverse range of activities that respect the uniqueness of each student. In addition to regular subject courses, we offer STEAM activities, Chinese dance, K-POP, lion dance, various sports teams, and art classes, all designed to help students discover and nurture their strengths. This year, we have intentionally created various platforms for students to express themselves confidently, whether through talent shows, art exhibitions, or school performances. These opportunities encourage our students to demonstrate their skills, build self-confidence, and learn the importance of teamwork, communication, and perseverance.

Revitalizing Individuals

This year, we implemented various programs designed to invigorate our students. Through engaging activities such as mindfulness sessions, creative arts workshops, and physical education, we encouraged students to explore their passions and develop a positive mindset. Our goal is to help each student discover their strengths and become confident individuals ready to face challenges.

This academic year, we took our Primary 6 graduates to our nation's capital, Beijing, for an exploration trip. Students visited our sister school, engaging in learning exchanges that allowed them to experience firsthand the prosperity and development of China, thereby broadening their horizons.

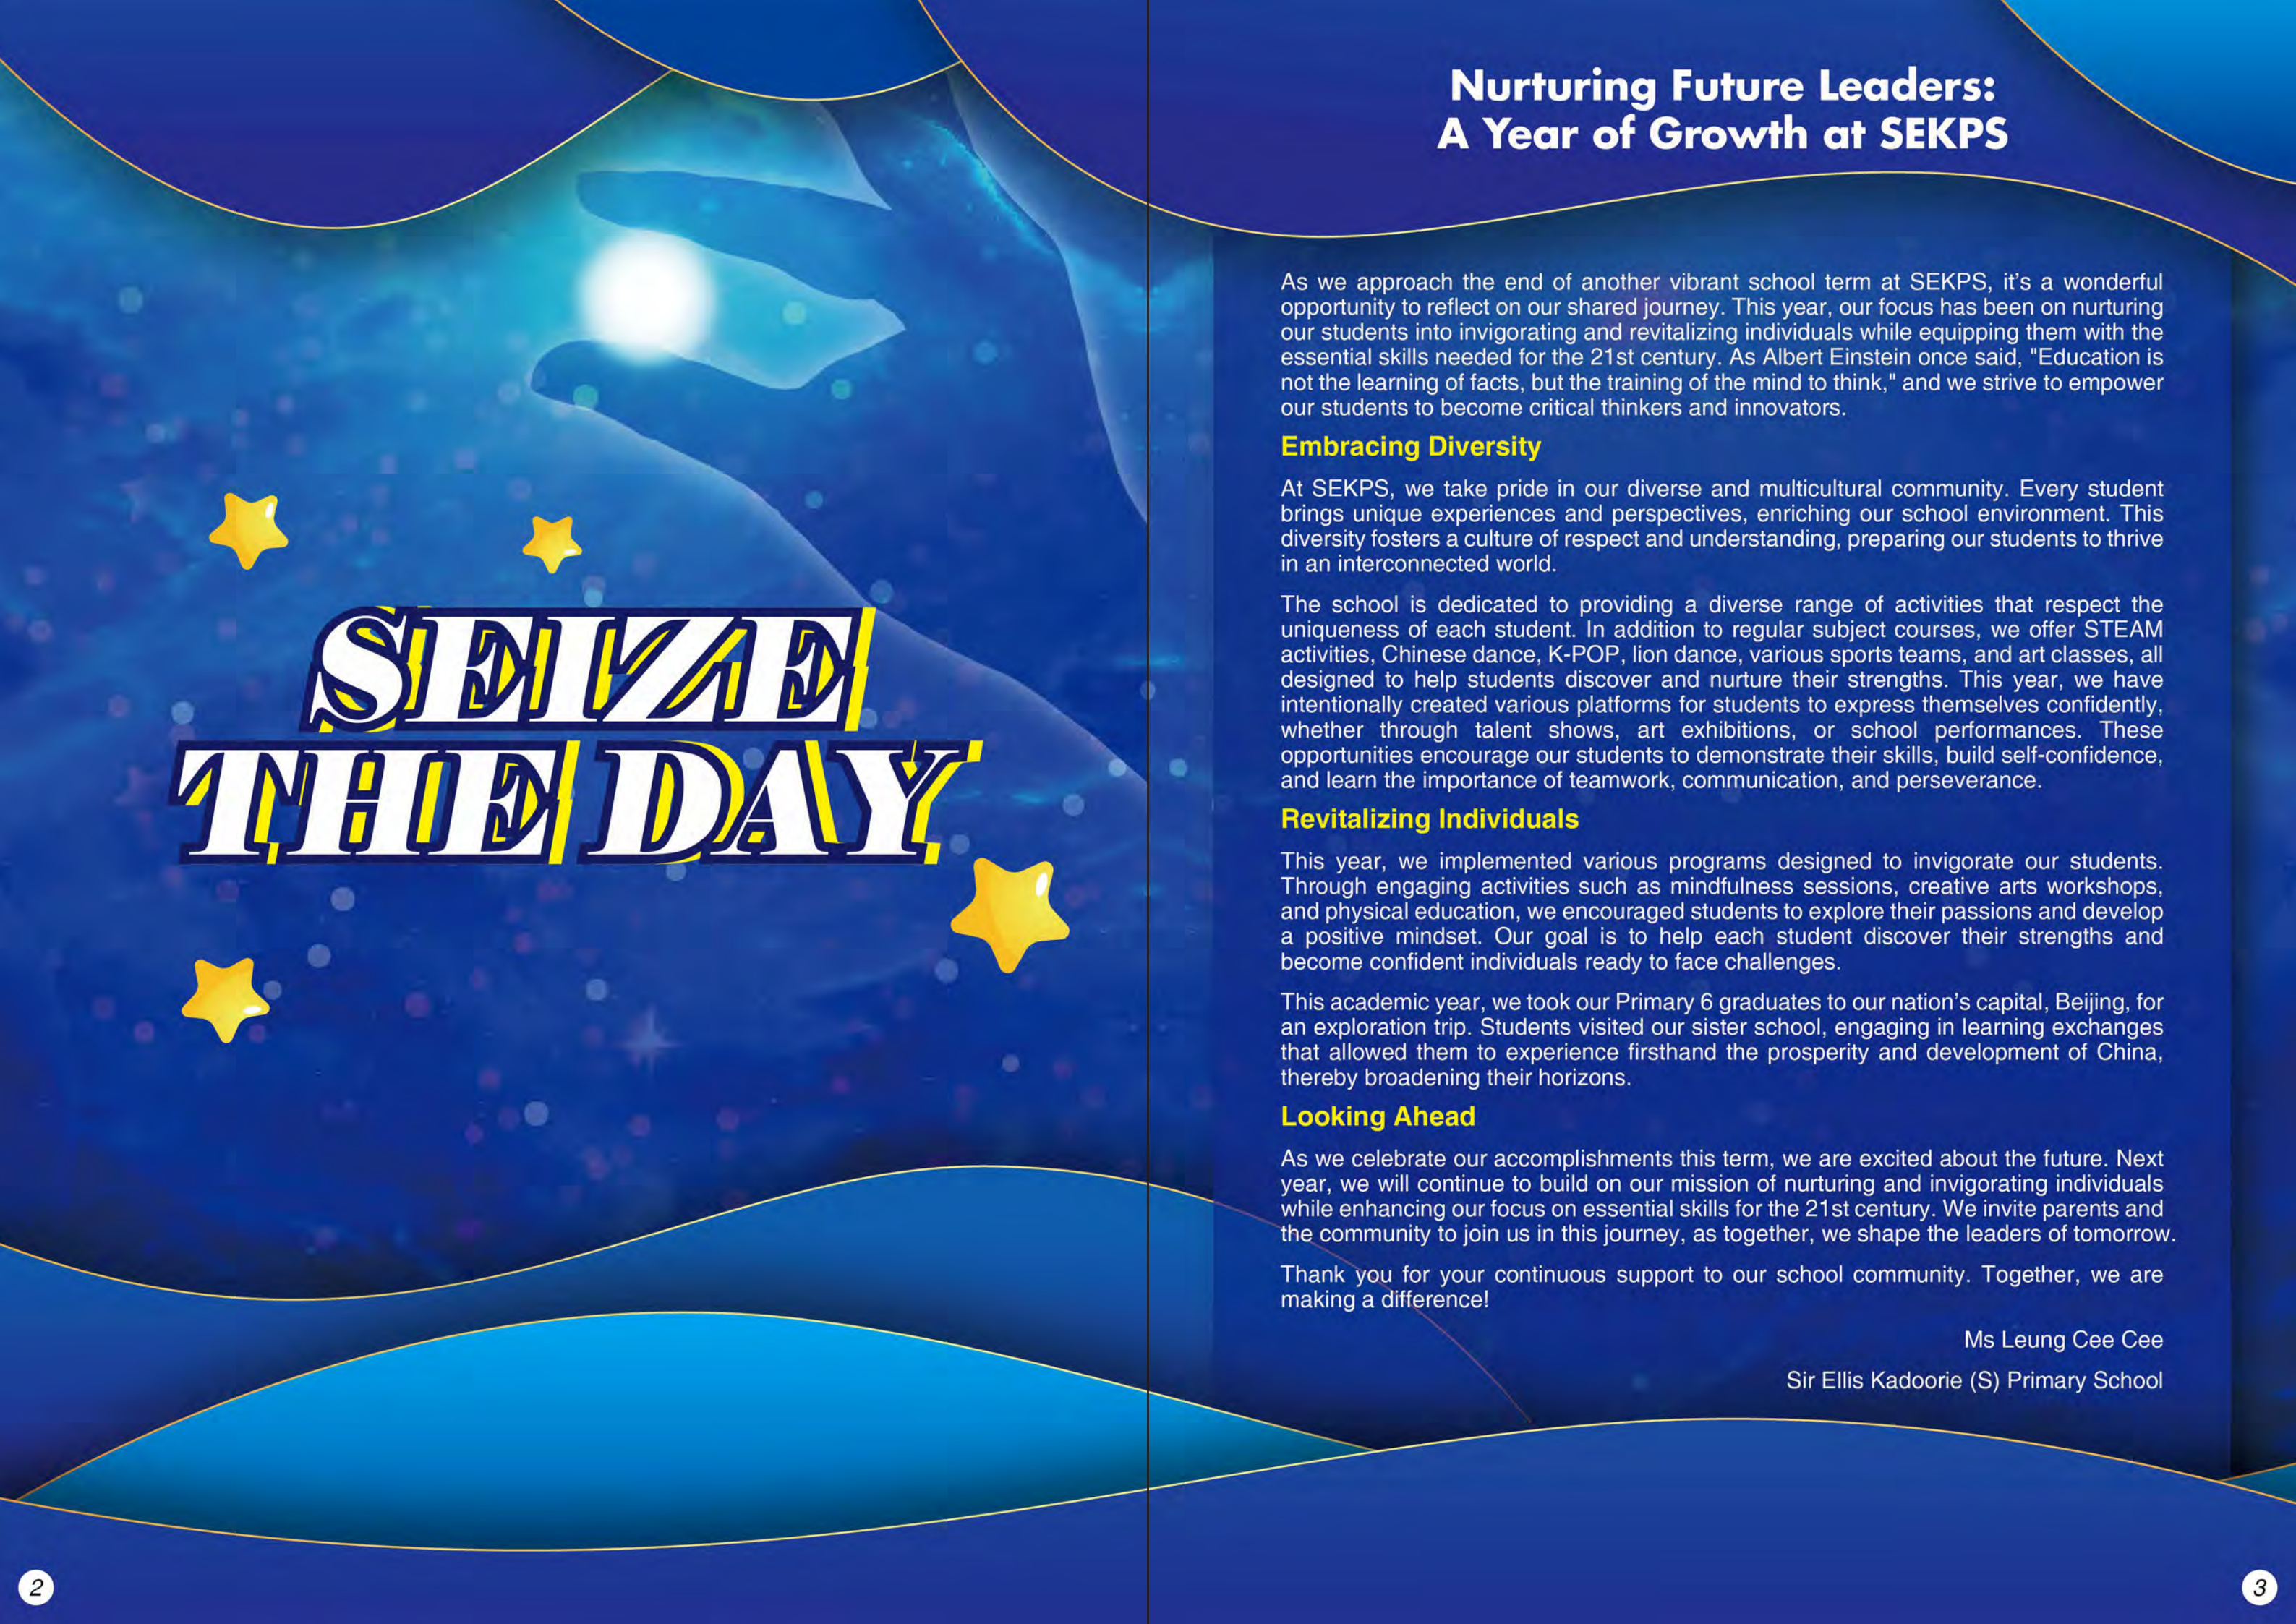

Looking Ahead

As we celebrate our accomplishments this term, we are excited about the future. Next year, we will continue to build on our mission of nurturing and invigorating individuals while enhancing our focus on essential skills for the 21st century. We invite parents and the community to join us in this journey, as together, we shape the leaders of tomorrow.

Thank you for your continuous support to our school community. Together, we are making a difference!

SINVA THE DAY

"Love Our Home, Treasure Our Country" 2025 GPS Elegant Brushstrokes Set World Record

A remarkable event is set to take place as 2,025 representatives from government primary schools come together to create ink artworks on folding fans. The theme of these artworks will center around the twenty-four solar terms, a vital part of traditional Chinese culture.

This initiative not only aims to break a world record but also seeks to promote the richness of Chinese heritage while fostering a sense of national pride among students and the broader community. Stay tuned for updates on this exciting cultural milestone!

"Echoes of Tradition: Young Artists Celebrating Our Heritage" Inter-School Chinese Visual Arts Exhibition

From May 9th to 11th, the "Echoes of Tradition: Young Artists Celebrating Our Heritage" Inter-School Chinese Visual Arts Exhibition was held at City Hall, co-organized by government primary schools. The event showcased students' creativity while fostering collaboration and cultural exchange.

The venue featured four seasonal-themed sections—Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter—highlighting traditional Chinese art forms like opera masks, ink painting, and blue-and-white porcelain. A key attraction was the group fan artworks, created by each school for the "Love Our Home, Treasure Our Country" 2025 GPS Elegant Brushstrokes Set World Record initiative, reflecting students' love for their homeland and cultural heritage.

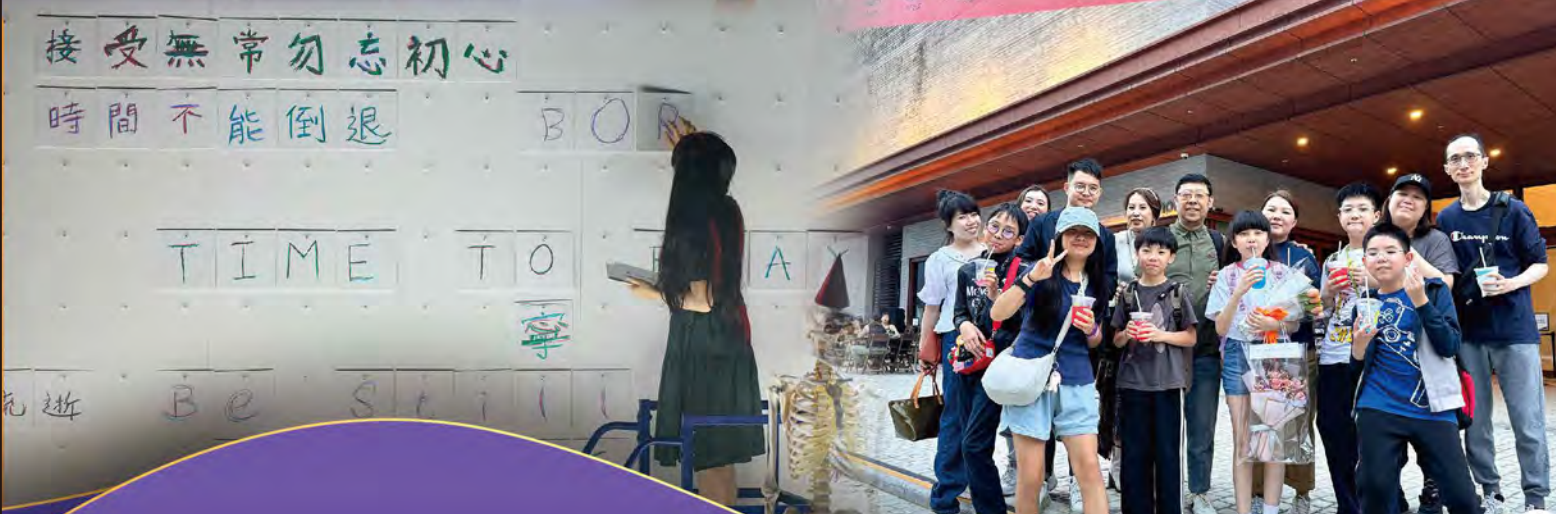

RTHK Interview with the Winner of the Say of Wisdom Writing Competition

We are immensely proud of Gabriella from Class 6A, who emerged as one of the winners in the Saying of Wisdom Writing Competition. She was invited for an interview with RTHK, where she joined other winners to share her experiences and thoughts about positive values. It was a proud moment for us to see her articulately discuss her journey and success on air. Well done, Gabi!

West Kowloon Fun Festival – Time Keeps The Drummer

Our school received an invitation to participate in the Gifted Program - West Kowloon Fun Fest 2025, aimed at identifying talented young actors and actresses for a public performance at M+ FREESPACE during the West Kowloon Fun Festival. The program director and his team conducted auditions and a drama workshop for members of our school's Drama Team. Fortunately, George from Class 3C and Audrey from Class 6A were selected to participate. They began their rehearsals in March, with performances scheduled for April. The students learned useful rehearsal techniques and authentic acting skills during their training and performance. Congratulations to Audrey and George—you are our future stars!

National Identity Mobile Application Design Competition

To raise students' awareness of National Identity and broaden their understanding of National Security, 6A Kaphas and Charis participated in the National Identity Mobile Application Design Competition organized by HKedCity. Our app, featuring pandas and the Great Wall of China as the background, distinguished our team by placing in the top 10 out of a field of 500 teams. We proudly attended the March prize-giving ceremony and fulfilled our dream by visiting the Great Wall of China together!

Congratulations to Kaphas and Charis on their outstanding work in promoting National Identity awareness among Hong Kong students! You are our shining NSE stars!

National Security Short Speech Competition

Annie and Gabriella from 6A participated in the National Security Short Speech Competition, where only four prizes were awarded among all participants. We are thrilled to announce that they secured two of these: Second Runner-Up and the Merit Award. Additionally, Annie has been invited to participate in the prize-giving ceremony in June. Congratulations to Annie and Gabriella—you are our shining NSE stars!

SEKPS 2025 Lunar New Year Festive Celebration

Panda Delight: A Legendary Encounter

During the joyous Lunar New Year celebrations, our school hosted the “Panda Delight” event—an exciting fusion of family fun and cultural exploration. The campus transformed into a “Panda Paradise”, providing students with an immersive and engaging learning experience.

The first day of the event welcomed upper primary students, who actively participated in enriching activities. On the second day, the celebration extended to lower primary students and their parents, as well as students from invited kindergartens, fostering a warm and inclusive community atmosphere. Both days featured student performances and award ceremonies showcasing the creativity and achievements of our school.

Throughout the event, students delved into the fascinating world of panda conservation, gained insights into national security education—with a focus on biosecurity and ecological protection—and explored the 4Rs - principles of mental wellness. They also learned to design poster artwork about panda conservation with the use of AI.

Through interactive panda-themed activities, they cultivated resilience and relaxation techniques, deepening their understanding of well-being and environmental responsibility.

Our school hopes that this enriching experience has ignited students' curiosity about Chinese culture, conservation, and life education, inspiring them to appreciate the significance of heritage and sustainability. It was truly a memorable and meaningful celebration for all!

Panda's "Four Actions of Love" in our MCE Lessons

In the 2nd term, our school successfully held "Four Actions of Love" Panda Moral Education lessons for both lower and upper-level students! Through four engaging sessions, students experienced the "Four Actions of Love" which includes: 'Love with Thanks', 'Love with Gratefulness', 'Love with Sorry', and 'Love with Farewell', through interactive theatre, group activities, and guided meditation.

The highlight was the Panda Interactive Theatre, where our panda friend brought each theme to life and inspired students to share their own feelings and stories. Guided meditation also helped everyone relax and learn how to positively manage their emotions.

We're so proud of how our students embraced these lessons and practiced kindness, gratitude, and respect in their daily lives. Let's keep the spirit of the "Four Actions of Love" going strong!

Chinese Cultural Day

On the 6th of February 2025 we celebrated Chinese Cultural Day at SEKPS. The amazing and exciting activities held on the day were enjoyable for our students and taught them a lot about Chinese National Identity. Students were able to wear national costumes to school and watched nunchaku demonstrations and Sichuanese Opera performances in the school hall. Students also had the opportunity to participate in activities such as Chinese chess, Chinese juggling and trying on Chinese ethnic costumes amongst other booth games and activities that helped to educate our students about Chinese culture. What a fantastic and joyful day!

We learnt about Kung Fu and practiced some skills!

We attended an awesome performance and learnt how to use nunchaku.

What national clothing am I wearing?

"Cheers!" We dressed up in traditional Chinese clothes.

We watched an amazing Sichuanese opera performance!

We like juggling a lot.

VA Art work about Panda

Our students have participated in a series of fun visual arts activities based around the theme of "pandas." They used light clay to create adorable panda models, each with different poses and expressions, showing lots of creativity and personality. Students also used their creativity with AI to design postcards and conservation posters featuring pandas as the main subject. They used vibrant colors and patterns to express their love for pandas and to share the message of the importance of protecting animals. These artworks not only showcase the students' artistic talents but also help everyone learn to appreciate and respect nature.

Our creative students spreading love for animals and nature with every colorful masterpiece!

Holiday Homework: A Special Twist on Tradition

In order to help students understand the meaning of Filial Piety, one of our School's priority values and attitudes, we arranged thematic Holiday Homework tasks for our students. As a part of this, they needed to read books about Filial Piety then draw their favourite character and write a description of their favorite part of the story. Additionally, they brought the lessons they'd learnt to life by practicing filial piety during the holidays. Whether they were whipping up meals as budding chefs, tidying up like seasoned housekeepers, or shining things up as professional cleaners, they supported their families in heartwarming ways. What a wonderful way to spend their holidays!

World Book Fest Day 2024-2025

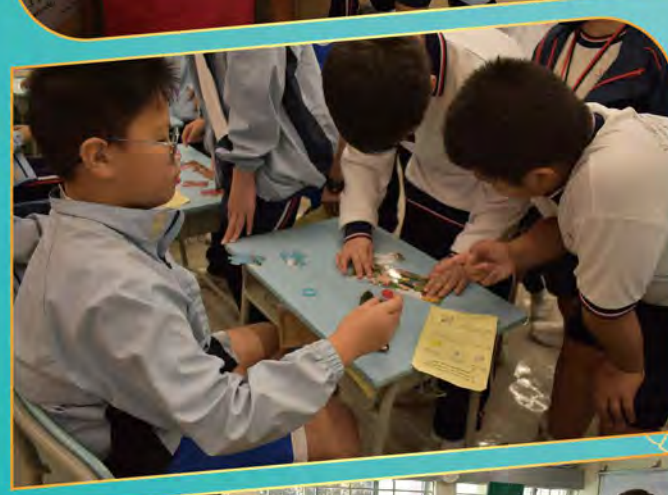

To promote reading and foster positive values such as unity among students, we hosted World Book Fest Day on the 30th of April. Our school held fun activities, including a book-sharing session with writers, booth games, and bedtime story readings. The activities mainly focused on two classic Chinese novels: The Three Kingdoms and Journey to the West. Many students dressed up as characters from these classic stories. The event was a success and had an exciting atmosphere.

We were pleased to invite the famous cartoonist and author Mr. Malone, who shared interesting stories from The Three Kingdoms with our students. He also taught students how to draw cartoons, and even sketched some students in their Chinese costumes.

Students watching a talk by Mr. Malone, a well-known cartoonist and author in Hong Kong.

Through the cross-curricular booth games in Chinese, English, Maths and Library Studies, students learnt more about Chinese culture and Chinese literature. Students had a wonderful time playing the booth games.

Bedtime Stories

Twenty students from junior levels (P.1 and P.2) who either showed good effort in the Joyful Reading Programme or performed well in the library studies classes were invited to join the Bedtime Story Activity after lunch. Students were surprised and excited to learn that Ms. Leung, our headmistress, was the storyteller. The children wore their pyjamas to create a relaxing bedtime atmosphere as they immersed themselves in stories about the priority value of 'Unity'.

Saying of Wisdom – Book Gifting Competition

Benevolence

Benevolence is an action. You should be kind to others no matter what. Even if someone is not kind to you, you should still be kind to them. Hopefully you'll be able to infect them with kindness! I know it's hard, but just try.

School is a good place to start. SEKPS has been my home for a year now. I have been to different schools and I feel most at home here. It's not just about learning in class. School life is about learning to be friends. Zaavish comforts me and it spreads around. We learn to treat each other well. I will cherish my time here at SEKPS because it has taught me so much and helped me to be better!

Filial Piety

Filial Piety means respecting your parents. Our parents are important to us because they provide us with everything. Our parents are our teachers, friends and carers. They love us unconditionally. They sacrifice everything for our future. Without their love and care, one cannot succeed. Here, we should also mention our grandparents, because they also love and support us. Our parents always put us before them. That's why we should always respect them. We should always obey and we should never disrespect them by not listening to them. My parents are my role models and I love them very much.

My Favourite Hiking Trip

I went hiking with my family on a bright sunny day. This hike had lots of stairs. At first we were climbing playfully. But then I got tired and did not want to continue. My daddy suggested we take a short break. He gave me a drink and encouraged me not to give up. I felt better after the drink and we continued. We didn't know we were so close to the top and soon we reached it! We had a small picnic, took some rest and enjoyed the scenery. While coming down we even spotted some wild boars, squirrels and birds. Coming down was much easier than going up.

Thank you daddy for the fun filled adventure and wonderful memories of my first hiking trip.

1A Nihaal

Dear Mom and Dad,

Thank you for cooking every day. I love your cooking. Thank you, Mom, for cleaning the house. My house is always clean. Thank you, Mom, for taking care of me. Thank you, Dad, for cooking every Saturday and Sunday. I love your cooking too! Thank you, dad, for teaching me how to play football. I love playing football with you. I am happy every day. I love you Mom and Dad.

When I grow up, I will buy you a very, very big house. I will cook yummy food! I will help you clean the house. I will buy you a lot of tickets to Spain to watch my football games. I will make you have a big smile.

Lots of love,
Soso

Benevolence

What is benevolence? Benevolence is a quality of being kind, helpful, caring and having goodwill towards others. It is a concept that touches the heart of human kindness and generosity.

It can be shown in simple ways. At home, it can be done by helping with household chores, following rules set by parents, showing respect to everyone at home and by taking care of siblings and helping them grow by believing in human kindness.

At school, it can be shown by listening and following the teachers and other school members. Through this their tough job will become a little less heavy for them.

There are many ways to show an act of benevolence. It cannot be experienced through actions only. Perhaps, using good and uplifting words will always boost one's spirit. The world will always be a better place to live in if only each and everyone will continue spreading this act of kindness.

Unity

The school classroom is a great example to explain the value of unity. In classrooms, we often get together to perform various activities in groups. In this, we achieve success and happiness together through exploring different ideas from various students. We also need to practise unity at home for better family bonding. I believe that the concept of unity will create a wonderful society.

2A Ayumi

Hi,

I am Bella from 2A. I am eight years old. Today I would like to talk about unity.

Unity means coming together. Like teamwork and togetherness, it talks about supporting each other. For example, when doing a group project, you need unity to make it look good. Or like when someone's feeling sad, you should support them, or when someone is joining something, support them.

Next, I would like to talk about Filial Piety. Filial Piety is all about respecting your parents and family. For example, if you parents are sick, showing filial piety means helping them. Other ways you can show this are by helping elders cross the road, helping with the housework and keeping them company.

Finally, I would like to talk about benevolence. Benevolence is the desire to help others. Sometimes this can be as simply as complimenting someone or saying thank you! As a child, I think it is important to do these things because you get to know your community.

I hope you liked my sharing,
Bella

2A Ailing

Hi,

My name is Ailing, and I am in class 2A. I am going to talk about unity. Unity is all about working together as a group. Imagine a team of friends working together to play tug-o-war. When everyone helps and shares ideas, they create something amazing. Unity is about being together and supporting each other. That is what unity is. You can see unity in lots of places like at school and at home. When you and your friends work together to do something, you and your friends show unity. I love unity!

Bye,
Ailing

2B Jolene

Dear families and friends,

We're strong together, so let's support each other and be kind. A smile or a helpful hand goes a long way. Let's be the change we want to see. Let's show love and understanding to everyone. Together, we can make things better. I appreciate our bonds and love. Let's keep lifting each other up with kindness, that way we can handle anything. Thanks for being in my life. I am so grateful for our relationships and the memories that we make. May our connections continue to grow stronger and may we always find joy in each other. I'm thankful for the laughter we make, the adventures we explore and the love we share.

With love and appreciation,
Jolene

Filial Piety (Family Loyalty)

What is Filial Piety? To me it means loyalty to the family as well as reverence for the family. The word 'filial' means family relationships, but what does 'reverence' mean? The dictionary defines reverence as a deep respect for someone or something.

In my opinion, it is important to support each other in the way teammates support each other on a rugby team. "Teamwork makes the dream work!" - that's what my coach always says. We are stronger together than by ourselves, whether on a rugby pitch or at home. When someone is having a hard day, we can help them by being supportive in any way we can. This strengthens our bonds with each other.

When we go on vacation, I carry my own bag so my mom doesn't carry so many bags. This is a small example of filial piety. Another is when I do chores around the house, such as walking the dog, cleaning my room and sometimes washing the dishes. By doing these things I support my family and strengthen bonds.

5A Carly

To my amazing dad,

I would like to give you this book because the story reflects your resilience and shows that even in the darkest times, we can still shine. The tree grows alone on a cliff and faces many challenges such as harsh thunderstorms, freezing nights and cold winters, yet it is able to grow bigger and stronger.

There is an inspiring quote from the story: "Sometimes we lose our way. But with some help we start again." In the same way, you have faced so many difficulties in your life, but you have persevered and are able to always smile as bright as a star. Your resilience has taught me to face my problems even if they are difficult. I hope this book can inspire you to continue being the courageous person you are!

You are the sunshine in my life, and my rock, the one who provides all my needs, who helps me and comforts me, and who lets me talk about my problems. I feel stronger and more confident because of your love and guidance. You mean the world to me! Thank you for always being my biggest supporter!

With lots of love,
Carly

5A Lasya

To my beautiful beloved mother,

I feel like giving this book to you because the story makes me think of your sweet, joyful personality. It tells about how we can share our delight by giving and receiving love, and filling each other's "buckets" or hearts. You are my bucket filler and you always shower me with so much love and affection.

As the writer says in the book, "A bucket filler is a loving and caring person who says and does nice things that make others feel special." You are the shining star who always gives me so much joy without ever thinking of what you will receive in return. You are my angel and you always make me feel so special.

Mom, you are my inspiration, and this book has also inspired me to recognize the many ways you fill my life with your love. I would like to thank you for being my guide, my support and the source of joy in my life. You make my world shine as bright as a diamond! I will love you forever!

With all my heart,
Lasya

5A Lincoln

To my dearest mother,

I wish to share this book with you because you are always calm and never give up when you face difficulties, just like the main character of the story. Sima Guang was in a very difficult situation but calmly and bravely found a way to save his friend who fell into a water tank. I think you are as calm and brave as Sima, and I hope the story can encourage you to never give up whenever problems come in your life.

"Sima Guang didn't panic and stayed calm. He lifted a rock and smashed the tank." This quote from the story shows his courage and resilience. I hope it inspires you to grow stronger and tougher, just like a diamond, and to always be able to find solutions.

This story has inspired me to face any problems with confidence. You are also my inspiration, Mom, and I hope to grow up to be as courageous as you. I will look for more books on resilience and share them with you. We can enjoy reading them together!

With love,
Lincoln

5C Komal

Dear Auntie Janet,

Knowing how much you love reading, I have selected this book gift for you. The story makes me think of all the happy conversations we have shared and I hope it inspires you and brings you joy.

This book is about expressing love, kindness and appreciation by filling each other's "buckets", which represent our hearts. I think you are a fountain of happiness for me, always helping and showering your kindness and care on me, my siblings and our whole family.

"You need other people to fill your bucket and other people need you to fill theirs." This beautiful quote from the book expresses the joy and delight we can give to each other, and I hope it inspires you to continue bringing fun and laughter to our home, and I promise we will do the same.

The idea of "bucket-filling" has inspired me to become a source of hope and happiness, like warm sunshine, for my peers and I have learned all this from you, Auntie Janet. Thank you so much for being my inspiration!

With love,
Komal

5C Sunny

Dear Vansh,

I want to give you this book because I think it can inspire you to overcome your problems in learning and keeping up with our class.

In the book, the little tree faces many obstacles but works very hard and uses all of its resources to adapt to the harsh environment, and survives. I hope this story encourages you to put more effort in your work. I know you can succeed for sure if you do!

There is a wonderful quote from the book: "Her tiny roots pushed night and day, and bit by bit the rock gave way." This vivid description clearly shows the hard work and perseverance of the little tree, and also emphasizes the importance of resilience and how powerful it can be.

I want you to know that this book has inspired me to be as strong and steady as the mountains, no matter what problems I am facing. I think it can motivate you to do the same. So, enjoy reading and be inspired!

With love,
Komal

6A Annie

Dear Gabriella,

I want to give you a book called The Paper Bag Princess because you are just as brave and intelligent as the main character.

In the book, the strong and clever Princess Elizabeth saves Prince Ronald from a dragon by using her skills and intelligence. Like you, she is as tough as a diamond and fights for others. I hope this story will encourage you to continue helping and speaking up for others.

There is a line in the story that sums up this idea of empowerment: "Your clothes are really pretty and your hair is very neat. You look like a prince, but you are a bum." Elizabeth says this to Ronald at the end of the story to express that his outward regal appearance does not reflect any character or inner strength, which is what really counts.

This story has taught me a moral: don't judge a book by its cover. Just because you're wearing a paper bag doesn't mean you can't be intimidating and can't outsmart a fire-breathing dragon. You can still be strong and empowered – and that is what you are, Gabriella! Thank you for always helping me!

Warm regards,
Charis

Dear Cassandra,

I want you to have this book because I know you're going through a difficult time and I think this story will offer you some strength and courage to face your challenges.

The book is about the growth of the Hugging Tree, and its inspiring journey of perseverance and resilience. It endures many challenges but it doesn't give up. In the same way, I hope you can be strong when difficulties come along like storms in your life.

"There's hardly any dirt for me. No forest breeze, no bird, no bees. But I will do the best I can to make this rock my home." This wonderful quote about resilience expresses the idea that no matter how harsh things are, we still have the ability to bounce back from setbacks and succeed. I really hope this wonderful book will inspire you to feel strong and beautiful again, like a rainbow after a storm.

This story has also inspired me to learn from my mistakes, celebrate small victories and eventually reach my goal. I truly believe resilience can lead to excellence. Let's both be inspired and aspire for the best!

Affectionately yours,
Gabriella

6A Moosa

To my dearest sister Asmara,

I want to give this book to you because I know you have faced many challenges, like the tree in the story, but you always stayed strong.

The Hugging Tree tells the story of a tree that manages to grow on a rocky cliff, like a miracle of nature, and where no other tree has ever grown before. I hope this image of resilience reminds you to thrive despite times of struggles and difficulties by finding solutions, then dream and grow again.

As the tree says in the story, "There's hardly any dirt for me. No forest breeze, no birds, no bees. But I will do my best to make this rock my home." It defies all the odds, and survives and grows in a difficult environment. I hope you will be encouraged to always be brave and move forward to a bright future.

Asmara, you are the mountain of strength in our family! I have always admired your focus and resilience. I hope this book brings you joy and also inspires you to continue doing your very best and never ever giving up on your goals.

Your loving brother,
Moosa

6A William

Dear Mum,

I chose this book for you because you make me happy and fill me with delight everyday by always cheering me up and putting a smile on my face. You are just like the people in the story who share happy thoughts and feelings of gratitude and cheerfulness by filling others' metaphorical buckets of happiness. I hope this book uplifts you and makes you realize how wonderful you are.

As said in the book, "When you're a bucket filler, you make your home, your school and your neighborhood better places to be. Bucket filling makes everyone feel good." This quote echoes the theme of delight because it explains how joyful "bucket-filling" can be for everyone, especially from the people who love you the most!

This book has inspired me to always be nice to everyone and make them feel better, so that they can also be nicer to others. If these positive feelings can be carried forward, the world would be an amazing place. For now, I am grateful to you for being so amazing for raising me and being my bucket filler! Thank you Mum!

Lots of love,
William

6B Hannah

Dear Cyril,

I want to share this book with you because the story is really inspiring and I think you will appreciate its theme of resilience.

Although the tree faces a lot of obstacles, like bad weather and climate, it does not lose hope. I think you can connect with this story because the tree is just like you, strong and brave, and I hope it encourages you to recognize your ability to overcome all obstacles.

In the book, the moon says, "Sometimes we lose our way. But with some help we start again. That's how life is, you know." This reminds us that no matter how many times you fail, if you're hardworking and passionate, perseverance can unlock the door to success!

As you read, think about your own journey and be inspired to overcome all your challenges. This book can teach you to be resilient, celebrate the small victories and find joy and success in your life. Remember, each little step you take is like playing a game, improving level by level until you finally win!

With love,
Hannah

6B Rehan

Dear Atif,

I would like to gift this book to you because you are a resilient person who perseveres no matter how hard the challenge is, just like the main character.

The story is about a resilient tree that grew on the edge of a stone cliff, and survived through several harsh conditions. I feel the story connects to you because with everything you've been through, you are still able to hold your stance and face it. And like the tree, you have thrived too!

There is an encouraging quote from this story which is, "Sometimes we lose our way, but with some help we start again. That's how life is, you know." This book has inspired me to never give up, especially when something is difficult. The idea is that we ought to keep trying until we succeed. I hope it encourages you to keep persevering through obstacles, remembering to always keep your focus.

Thank you for always being such an amazing friend, Atif! Every time I feel down, you always support me, I appreciate all you have done for me and I admire you.

Lots of love,
Rehan

6B Sam

To my dear cousin Aakarshan,

I chose this book for you because it shows how small gestures can make someone happy. This reminded me of all the things you do for me and so I wanted to share it with you.

The book is about giving happiness to others by filling their "buckets", which represent their hearts. You are one of the most important people who do this for me and I hope I am your "bucket filler" too. I also know that you spread your love, like a beautiful perfume, to everyone.

I found a very nice inspiring quote from the book: "You feel good when you help others feel good." This reflects the delight we feel when we make others happy. I hope this can inspire you to continue being the colourful rainbow of joy you are!

This book has inspired me to perform random acts of kindness to brighten someone's day, something I have also learned from you. You are my inspiration, and this gift is my way of thanking you for all the happiness you give me!

With love,
Sam

6C Rasal

To my dearest friend Raneesh,

I would like to give you this book because it is a good reminder of the joys and challenges of different lifestyles. Since we have been discussing this topic recently, I thought this story could express it better.

This is a fable about a country mouse and a town mouse who host each other in their respective homes. One lifestyle offers simple joys, while the other allows for luxurious experiences, but mixed with many dangers. Like the country mouse, I hope you are motivated to appreciate the simple joys in your life, and learn to value happiness over wealth.

The country mouse says in the story, "Better beans and bacon in peace than cake and ale in fear." This quote strongly emphasizes that having simple pleasures is the key to true happiness. I hope this can inspire you to reflect on your own desires and be grateful for what you have.

I really think you will like this story which teaches us how to appreciate the simple happy moments in our lives instead of just running after luxuries, like the three blind mice. Enjoy reading!

Your friend,
Rasal

Life-Planning Education – Celebrity Guest Talk: Insights from Crystal Fung Ying-Ying

On the 19th of May 2025, we were lucky enough to have Miss Crystal Fung, Miss Hong Kong 2016, as well as actress and nutrition graduate, visit our school. During the Celebrity Guest Talk, our Headmistress, Ms. Leung, conducted an interview with her, followed by a question-and-answer session by six of our students from P.4 to P.6.

Miss Fung shared her experiences and insights on the topic of "Dreams and Perseverance." Her inspiring presentation taught students how to set goals, pursue their dreams with a step-by-step approach, and face life's challenges with resilience and courage. This event provided a valuable opportunity for students to receive support in life planning and deepen their self-understanding.

WhatsApp Sticker Design Competition 2024-25

To help inspire and foster a sense of creativity in students, we held the 'WhatsApp Sticker Competition 2024-25' from Weeks 12 to 14. With students' active participation, the "WhatsApp Sticker Design Competition 2024-25" received over one hundred creative and innovative entries from the contestants. Winning entries have been made available online for you to download and use!

Empowering Future Innovators Through STEAM and the Arts

At our school, we are committed to cultivating young minds through a vibrant and integrated STEAM education — blending Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics. Our goal is to spark curiosity, foster creativity, and inspire innovation in every student.

Through hands-on experiments, interactive learning, and collaborative projects, students build essential 21st-century skills such as critical thinking, problem-solving, and teamwork. Guided by a dedicated team of passionate educators, students thrive in an inclusive environment designed to support exploration and growth.

We believe in nurturing the next generation of innovators, creators, and leaders. By empowering students to think beyond the classroom and embrace real-world challenges, we help unlock their full potential and prepare them to excel in an ever-changing world.

Leaders of tomorrow: Our Head Prefects

6A Zayn

Hi, I'm Zayn from class 6A, and I'm one of the head prefects. I'm really thankful to all the teachers for selecting me for this role. Being a head prefect has been challenging, especially when I have to assign other prefects for substitution duties and take care of the younger students. Despite the challenges, I've really enjoyed my duties as a leader. This role has helped me improve my communication skills and learn about leadership. I will miss being a head prefect as I move on from primary school, but I hope to be a head prefect again in secondary school.

6C Rasal

Hello, I'm Rasal from 6C. As the term comes to an end, I'm grateful to all the teachers. Being a head prefect has taught me a lot, like taking care of younger students. It's not an easy job, but I'm glad to have had this responsibility. As a head prefect, I had to check on the other prefects and manage substitutions because teamwork is crucial. Being a good role model requires a lot of discipline. I've learned valuable lessons about leadership, responsibility, and teamwork. Thank you!

6A Gabriella

Hello! I'm Gabriella from 6A. As my time as Head Prefect comes to an end, I want to thank everyone for this amazing opportunity. My duties included checking if other prefects were on duty, arranging substitutes when needed, and monitoring everyone's behavior to set a good example. Leading wasn't easy, but it taught me resilience, teamwork, communication, and decision-making. Leadership isn't just about having a title; it's about making an impact, influencing others, and inspiring them. You can be a leader by helping lift others up! A big thanks to the teachers for choosing me as head prefect. Thank you, everyone!

6B Gurleen

Hi, I'm Gurleen from class 6B. This year, I'm one of the head prefects. Being a head prefect is challenging but very rewarding. One of my responsibilities is to check and assist the members of our school prefect team. I also strive to be a good role model for all Kadoorians. I am truly grateful to Miss Wong for selecting me as one of the head prefects. This experience has been unforgettable and incredibly meaningful in my life. Thank you!
