Today was a sunny and warm day, so Peter went to Happy Park to play football. He took his football and went to Happy Park.

Once he arrived, he ran to a grassy place and started playing. He also saw a little girl with her mom playing with a cute little doll.

Fifty minutes later, the little girl and her mom set up the picnic mat. Her mum took out some apples and sandwiches while the little girl played with her doll. But suddenly, Peter kicked the ball to the little girl and it hit her forehead! Peter ran to the girl's mom and said sorry. She forgave Peter and took the little girl to the first aid station.

From then on, Peter always pays attention to where he kicks.
